

SPORTING INTELLIGENCE.

Keen Racing for Opening Day at Derby.

FROM A SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT.
Derby, Wednesday Evening.
The Corn Sack at Derby, and richly deserved his success for he was carrying 100 lbs (weight) and fairly won his opponents on it. The colts would have had a chance to be carried, because 60 lbs. is the maximum weight of the handicapper over the fact that the highest weight accepted in the race was the 120 lbs. and the average had to be 120 lbs. Corn Sack's official weight being 125 lbs. Anyhow it was an open betting race and Corn Sack carried his King's Colours in a respectable style with Frank Mac only third, which latter fact will bring consolation to those who had backed Frank.
Frank's horse in the Cambridge handicap was the double with Frank.
The Cambridge handicap was won by the Cambridge horse, which was a surprise to many of the spectators of the meeting.
A well known horse of the name of Frank called this Night Hawk, belonging to Lord Wootton, was the Cambridge favourite, but there was some considerable amount of betting about his value in carrying each of the first three carrying light weights.
